Job Overview

Prospus Consulting Pvt. Ltd. is seeking an Agile Story Analyst to convert technical specifications, reported bugs, and requirements into actionable user stories that align with Agile principles. The ideal candidate will work closely with the CTO and development teams to ensure efficient backlog management and sprint planning.

Responsibilities

- Analyze technical documentation, specifications, and bug reports to create clear, detailed user stories with defined acceptance criteria.
- Maintain and refine the reported bugs, ensuring accuracy in reflecting technical needs.
- Assist in sprint planning by preparing well-defined stories from technical specification documents to meet development goals.
- Identify and resolve gaps in technical documentation through collaboration with relevant stakeholders.
- Document workflows, processes, and system requirements as needed.
- Ensure alignment of user stories with Agile best practices and development workflows.

Skills

- Expertise in translating technical requirements, specifications, and bug reports into well-defined, actionable user stories.
- Strong knowledge of Agile/Scrum principles and best practices.
- Proficiency with project management tools such as Jira, Trello, or Asana.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills, particularly in simplifying complex technical concepts for diverse audiences.
- Keen attention to detail and the ability to break down complex technical tasks into manageable deliverables.
- Understanding of the software development lifecycle (SDLC) and workflows.
- Familiarity with basic coding or debugging processes.
- Analytical thinking and exceptional problem-solving skills.
- Strong collaboration skills to work effectively with the CTO, developers, QA teams, and other stakeholders.

Experience and Certifications required

Experience required is 4 – 6 years.

Preferred Certifications

- Certified Scrum Product Owner (CSPO)
- Certified ScrumMaster (CSM)
- Professional Scrum Master (PSM I)
- ICAgile Certified Professional (ICP)
